SNAKE PHOTOGRAPHY

Get your best reptile photos ever!

As with all outstanding photography involving wildlife, success is achieved through more than just great camera work. As you are dealing with complex and unpredictable subjects that often don't want to be seen, an equally important step in producing stand-out photographs is to understand (and find) the animal you're after.

At Watamu Snake Farm we can provide you with that opportunity to photograph a huge variety of both venomous and non venomous snakes, often not easily found or seen, and certainly not so they can be photographed.

Our professional handlers will help pose subjects in natural environments within the snake farm premises for realistic images, taken safely.

We do have a light box available if required.

Please Note - the health and safety of our animals and other guests will always be paramount.

For our copyright terms and conditions, please download our "Photography Services Contract".
